

What isn't described using math?