Reading Math

We don't read math one page at a time, one paragraph at a time or one sentence at a time.

Math is read one phrase at a time, then looking at the illustration then looking at the example then back to the illustration then back to the example and then back to the reading

Always with pencil & paper